Pet for mid level TB in 2Moons

In fact, lvl 5 Bregon in 2Moons is good to use against most classes except bagi, because Bagi has resistance buff and won't get debuffed. If you are in urgent need of some cheap 2moons gold, welcome to place orders from us, we will deliver the gold at the lowest price in an instant. Having a lvl 5 Bregon is good for TB summoners who are the type to try and end things quickly, that do not usually switch to staff and do not like to prolong pvp duels. lvl 5 bregon is mainly used for the def debuff, and it debuffs very consistantly. on the other hand, agares could hit harder as you lvl it up, it hits really hard and it is ideal against classes that can kite you, it can damage KB lots of classes with a few exceptions, if someone is trying to run from you, agares can hit them and provide you an opportunity to catch up to them.

In the end, it is personal preference, lvl 5 (2Moons powerleveling) bregon looked cool, but the way you play you do not really need it or have use for it. It does come in handy for other summies you won't deny it. Actually it depends on what class you are pvping. You could use Agares for hunters and mages, if you have bregon leveled up you can use him for bagis and aks. It's up to you as for segs and other summoners. The best thing to do is pvp a lot using different pets and see what works well for you. That is all the content, see you next time.
