INDFLOOR becomes a certified Purus partner in Romania.

We send a big congratulations to Indfloor who has successfully completed the Purus product training to become a certified Purus partner.

Our product training consists of 3 parts: technical training for our complete range of products, sales training and finally, practical & theoretical training in installation. With exuberant enthusiasm they took on the task and mastered it exemplarily.

Please do not hesitate in contacting Indfloor for technical support, to send your purchase orders and general questions about Purus products.

Purus is one of Scandinavia's leading manufacturers of products for the kitchen and bathroom. Its principal product segment comprises floor gullies, floor channels, indoor waste systems, stainless steel interiors and stainless steel sanitaryware. Purus' strong position in the Nordic market is a result of reliable products, innovative thinking and the best customer support in the market. Purus forms part of BLS Industries, a leading group in the sanitaryware industry, with all manufacturing done in-house in Sweden.
