Love romance and ever after eCards launched by Hope Spring

Love and passion for water poverty alleviation, is what led to the creation of Hope Spring water charity. The charity in turn created Hope Spring eCards, a fundraising project to help active the aims of helping water poor communities in Africa to access clean water. Still on love and passion, it is not a surprise that this summer, the ecard website added a love and romance section to it's ecards offering.

Announcing the new love and romance ecards on Zoom, Hope Spring eCard platform manager Evgeniy Garkaviy said “we started our ecard platform with birthday ecards, we have since steadily added ecards for other occasions, today it is love and relationship themed ecards we have just added. New ecards tend to be created at the request of users, the love and romance category is not different”.

Mr Garkaviy, a long term volunteer with the charity and one of the architects of their ecard platform added that “including the love and romance ecards, we have added over 200 new ecards to our platform this year. We will use the last quarter of this year to work on our hand drawn fine arts ecards and Christmas ecards.”

Hope Spring eCards raise its revenue from donations made by supporters and others, who send ecards from the platform. Donations raised are used to fund the organisation’s clean water projects in Africa. So far, revenue raised by the ecards has helped the organisation to provide safe, clean water to thousands of people.

You can find out more information about the organisation or support them by visiting their website, social media pages or contacting them via email or a messaging platform.

About Hope Spring Water Ecards: Hope Spring is small water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH) charity. The funds we use to provide clean drinking water to developing communities and the resources we use to run our life-saving sanitation and hygiene workshops come from donations from people like you.

Hope Spring Water charity’s ecard website was set up, so that its users can send donation ecards to their family, friends or colleagues and donate what it would have cost them to send a traditional printed card to Hope Spring.
