Practical Action signs up to new safeguarding standards

Practical Action has committed to signing up to a set of new safeguarding standards after attending a summit with The UK Government and other international development organisations.

The commitment can be read here

Practical Action has also made public its response to DFID regarding safeguarding and sexual abuse. The full response is attached below.

Practical Action uses technology to challenge poverty in developing countries.

Our strength is our approach. We find out what people are doing and help them to do it better. Through technology we enable poor communities to build on their skills and knowledge to produce sustainable and practical solutions - transforming their lives forever and protecting the world around them.

By doing this each year we help around a million people break out of the cycle of poverty ... for good.
