

Dec 04, 2012 17:03 EST

Call Center Offer Launched By VoIP Equipment Supplier TelcoDepot.com

Bay Shore, NY

TelcoDepot.com has introduced a new special discount offer on bulk orders of VoIP phone systems, VoIP service options and technical support for call centers which is designed to allow them access these optimized telecom solutions at reduced cost, zero risk and no hassle. TelcoDepot.com is a provider of business phone system equipment and services covering VoIP phone system, VoIP service, hosted PBX service, PBX phone system equipment, telephone system accessories (such as phone headset units and more) and VoIP phone system support. Shop for leading phone systems and equipment from brands like Aastra, Allworx, Grandstream, NEC phone system products, TalkSwitch, Xblue and Yealink at affordable prices with great support options.

The call center business is heavily reliant on optimized phone systems and VoIP solutions which meet above-average criteria for power as well as functionality. This is because call centers handle heavy volumes of incoming and outgoing calls daily, and as such require very powerful solutions to ensure continued operation during peak periods.

Workload management and the integration of other required services such as Internet, voicemail, Instant Messaging and multi-party conferencing dictate that chosen contractors deploy solutions that are VoIP-based, and expertise in the provision of VoIP services is required to correctly design and deploy effective, long-lasting solutions for call center businesses.

"TelcoDepot.com now provides subscribing call centers with affordable high quality phone systems, VoIP equipment and VoIP service options that are optimized for their business and help them grow while cutting operating costs and improving productivity and work efficiency," says Yaron Ram, a TelcoDepot.com principal.

To learn more about the TelcoDepot.com special offering for call centers, including details on availability, pricing, discounts, systems and more, please call TelcoDepot.com support lines on 1-800-390-1200 or send an email to info@telcodepot.com.

About Telco Depot

Telco Depot is a leading supplier of quality business telephone systems, business VoIP service, VoIP phones, phone headset equipment, video surveillance systems, voice & data cabling solutions, conference phone solutions and Microsoft Response Point Systems. The company's top priority is to help its clients make informed decisions based on their specific small business phone system needs by providing experience and expertise and guiding them in selecting the best phone systems for their businesses. Telco Depot ensures that their phone systems are fully scalable, affordable priced, and provide the highest value for their clients.